I. SUMMARY

CDCC is proposing to clarify in its Rules its intent to enter into consultation with the Bank of Canada before declaring a Clearing Member Non-Conforming or using enforcement measures permitted under such status.

II. ANALYSIS

a. Background

As part of a well-established practice of communicating with its regulators throughout the default management process, CDCC management has been committed to timely inform its regulators of the developments and decisions taken by the default management committee. This, in line with the language of section A-1A04 Non-Conforming Member, which provides that the Corporation may notify the appropriate regulatory organization of the Clearing Member or the regulatory agency of the Corporation.

b. Description and Analysis of Impacts

The proposed rule change will not affect the rights and obligations of the Clearing Members nor will it restrict CDCC's ability to act in the course of a default management process. This proposed rule change intends on providing some transparency to the market as to CDCC's intent and ability to enter into consultation with the Bank of Canada in respect of a Clearing Member's anticipated or actual default, prior to declaring such Clearing Member Non-Conforming or using enforcement measures permitted under such status.

c. Proposed Amendments

See Appendix 1.

III. PRIMARY MOTIVATION

Canada has recently adopted a Recovery and Resolution regime governing certain financial institutions deemed systemically important for the Canadian economy (D-SIB). While this new regulatory regime does not affect or restrain CDCC's discretionary power in terms of default management, it grants the D-SIB regulators certain powers and tools to guarantee the defaulting D-SIB's obligations and to transfer certain assets to a receiving entity (through a bridge bank). As part of a default management process involving a defaulting D-SIB, in order to protect financial markets stability, CDCC, the Bank of Canada and the D-SIB regulators are expected to establish a communication protocol to exchange timely information. The rule change proposal therefore formalizes CDCC's intentions.

IV. IMPACTS ON TECHNOLOGICAL SYSTEMS

The proposed rule change will have no technological impact.

V. OBJECTIVES OF THE PROPOSED MODIFICATIONS

The rule gives transparent indication of CDCC's intentions of entering into consultation with the Bank of Canada, prior to declaring a Clearing Member Non-Conforming or using enforcement measures permitted under such status.

VI. PUBLIC INTEREST

In CDCC's opinion, the proposed amendment is not contrary to the public interest.

VII. MARKET IMPACTS

An examination of how the proposed change will enhance market efficiency.

VIII. PROCESS

The proposed amendment is submitted for approval by the CDCC Board. After the approval has been obtained, the proposed amendment, including this analysis, will be transmitted to the Autorité des marchés financiers in accordance with the self-certification process, and to the Ontario Securities Commission in accordance with the "Rule Change Requiring Approval in Ontario" process. The proposed amendment and analysis will also be submitted for approval to the Bank of Canada in accordance with the Regulatory Oversight Agreement.

IX. EFFECTIVE DATE

The proposed rule change should be implemented in Q3 2016, subject to the regulatory approval.
